ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Over the last two decades, EMDR has emerged as one of the most powerful clinical tools available to trauma therapists. In this workshop, Dr. Laurel Parnell will teach you how to integrate an attachment focus into EMDR and to use EMDR in combination with a variety of complementary techniques. On Day 2 you will learn to modify EMDR protocols for use with a particularly difficult and challenging patient population: adults who have been abused as children.

Much of this workshop is built around videos of actual clinical sessions conducted by Dr. Parnell. These videos bring the training to life: participants can see, not just hear about, how the ideas and procedures they're learning are used with real patients in the real world. Dr. Parnell is an EMDRIA Approved Basic Training Provider as well as an experienced and highly skilled therapist. Her workshops are as enjoyable as they are instructive, and consistently receive rave reviews.

DAY ONE

Attachment-Focused EMDR

Today, you will learn to use the five basic principles of attachment-focused EMDR. For many traumatized patients, attachment repair is a critically important component of successful treatment - a component that can be accomplished effectively and efficiently by using EMDR within a positive therapeutic alliance. Videotaped demonstrations, discussion, and practice will help you define the differences between attachment-focused EMDR and a more traditional approach.

In addition, Dr. Parnell will emphasize how the technique called "Resource Tapping" can be used to repair developmental deficits as well as to help prepare clients for trauma processing work. You will watch Dr. Parnell use Resource Tapping, will have a chance to practice the technique yourself, and will learn how to integrate it with EMDR.

"This was an amazing training. (Dr. Parnell's) knowledge, experience, and examples were crucial to learning the material."

—WORKSHOP PARTICIPANT

Please Note: This workshop contains disturbing material involving childhood abuse and other forms of victimization. Please attend only with this understanding. If during the workshop you feel you need assistance, please let the coordinator or speaker know immediately.
